REDS STEPPING UP OFFENSIVE AGAINST FOES

Goal Now Extermination Of All Germans On Russian Soil

NAZIS UNABLE TO READJUST LINES

Total of Six Million Invaders Killed, Is Moscow Claim

(By Associated Press) MOSCOW, Dec. 15.—The Red army, snapping back from its successful defense of Moscow, Leningrad and the Caucasus, is turning to a general offensive and is now fighting especially hard to restore the main Moscow-Leningrad connection through Klin, Soviet reports said today.

Pravda, Communist party organ, in a broadcast report, said Soviet troops had cut the Moscow-Leningrad road at one point and taken 42 settlements and 75 tanks in a single day.

Many Areas Re-taken

The newspaper said troops which had re-taken Solnetschnogorski, 31 miles northwest of Moscow and east of Klin, were now throwing the Germans out of other localities and that the Nazi retreat was proceeding in disorder with many hundreds of dead and wounded being left behind. Yakhrona was recaptured five days ago, the account added.

The Tikhvin-Volkhov railway southwest of Leningrad already has been cleared of the Germans, Pravda said.

In one village in the Klin district Pravda said the Russians found a report from the commander of the 236th German infantry regiment showing that his unit had lost half of its remaining strength of 400 men in one day.

In London an authoritative military source said the initiative appeared to have passed definitely to the Russians in the Moscow sector. It is clear that the Germans are not succeeding in readjusting their line because their plans are being constantly disturbed by Soviet onslaughts, he said.

The Russians said their purpose now is to exterminate the German armies on their soil.

Pravda, the Communist party organ, said the Soviet troops driving Adolf Hitler's tired, beaten soldiers back from Moscow had destroyed "an entire generation of Nazis."

Claim Big Casualty List

The Russians claim Hitler has lost 6,000,000 men since his invasion June 22, more than 15,000 tanks, 13,000 planes and 19,000 cannons.

This is the broad picture the Russians paint in claiming the Moscow Turn to REDS, Page 8.

JAPS THRUST AT HONGKONG

British Falling Back From Kowloon; Will Defend Island Area

(By Associated Press) LONDON, Dec. 15.—The Japanese have pounded Hongkong from the land and air for the past two days as British forces on Kowloon peninsula, the colony's mainland section, fell back to defend Hongkong island, British sources declared today.

The withdrawal, they said, was ordered according to plan and "still is going on."

Japanese dispatches said Britain's defenses of Hongkong were crumbling under the shelling of siege guns on the mainland and incessant aerial bombardment. The fall of Britain's second most vital far Eastern stronghold was declared to be only a matter of days.

One potential source of relief for the colony was a Chinese attack on the rear and flanks of the Japanese on the mainland. But the British here said they had no information on that operation beyond Chungking advices that a fierce assault is in full swing against the Japanese in the Tamsui area, north of Hongkong.

Hongkong island rises steeply from the flat waterfront to the gun-studded heights of "The Peak" overlooking the island city of Victoria and the Kowloon plains across about one mile of water.

The British said that they were using their lighter guns to defend Hongkong against attack from across the narrow channel but that their biggest guns—some of which have been described as 18-inches—probably are mounted for use against sea attack and could not be used successfully against the Kowloon threat.

HIGHWAY PATROL ARRESTS 4 DRIVERS

Four motorists were fined following their arrest by Salem state highway patrolmen over the weekend.

Charles Georges of Canton was treated at City hospital for lacerations of the face after his automobile skidded on Route 62, near Canfield, and went into a ditch shortly before 4 p. m. Saturday.

Three cars were involved in a collision on Route 173, one and a half miles west of Sebring, at 4 p. m. Saturday. One vehicle was destroyed by fire.

The collision occurred, the patrol reported, when a machine driven by Ben Copeland, 22, of R. D. 1, Lisbon, was in the act of turning from the main highway. Pamp Coleman, 18, of R. D. 4, Alliance, traveling directly behind Copeland, slowed down but was struck from the rear by a truck operated by Arthur Winkler, 23, of Alliance.

Coleman's car, which was shoved into Copeland's machine, caught fire, but the Alliance motorist escaped with bruises to his face and knees.

Copeland was cited into court on a charge of reckless driving.

SALEM DRAFT BOARD CALL ASKS 54 MEN

New High Mark Set Here Under Selective Service Program

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 7, IS INDUCTION DATE

Liverpool to Provide 44, And Lisbon, 30, On Same Date

Selective service officials today summoned a total of 128 Columbiana county draftees to report for army induction on Wednesday, Jan. 7, fifty-four of the men to be taken from the Salem draft board roster.

The call is the 34th announced by state selective service headquarters. A 35th call, also issued today, is for Negroes and does not affect boards of this county.

Salem draft board officials acknowledged receipt of an official call for 54 men on Jan. 7 to report at the army's new induction center at Camp Perry on Lake Erie.

East Liverpool will furnish 44 men the same day and Lisbon 30 draftees. Draft boards in the three communities indicated that sufficient men were available for immediate call, having passed physical examinations a month ago.

The call for 54 men from Salem constitutes the largest group of trainees to leave Salem since the selective service program started a year ago. The previous record of 44 men was set Jan. 21, 1941.

The East Liverpool draft board fulfilled a quota of 44 men at the same time.

A large number of men are classified in 1-A, available for immediate call, officials of the local board said today. Seventy-four out of a group of 84 eligibles passed physical examinations at the Canton examining center at Canton on Nov. 14.

COMMITTEE O.K.'S NAVAL EXPANSION

Presidential Authority and New Draft Plan Also Before Congress

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Authorization for an expansion of the United States two-ocean navy was approved quickly today by the house naval affairs committee after the size of the contemplated increase was reduced from 900,000 tons to 150,000 tons at the request of the navy.

The measure left the type of ships to be constructed to the discretion of the President and the navy department, but Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) said that it would include no battleships.

He hastened to add, however, that "this does not mean that we are abandoning the idea of battleships, but it takes longer to build them."

Decides on Smaller Amount

He said that the committee was willing to authorize the full 900,000 tons.

TWO ARE INJURED IN TWO ACCIDENTS

Two persons suffered injuries in two weekend accidents investigated by the Salem state highway patrol sub-station.

Charles Georges of Canton was treated at City hospital for lacerations of the face after his automobile skidded on Route 62, near Canfield, and went into a ditch shortly before 4 p. m. Saturday.

Three cars were involved in a collision on Route 173, one and a half miles west of Sebring, at 4 p. m. Saturday. One vehicle was destroyed by fire.

"Bonds For Bomber" Drive Nets $14,600 In Two Days

"Bonds for a Bomber!"

A total of $14,600 worth of them to date—that's the two-day score in the Junior Chamber of Commerce week's campaign to raise $180,000, enough to build a medium bomber for service with the country's armed forces in its war against the Axis.

The campaign brought in $4,000 Friday.

Saturday's sales added $10,600 to this amount.

With a third of the allotted period of a week gone, Junior Chamber officials point out that bond buyers will "have to step on it," if that goal of $180,000 is to be reached.

Bonds cost as little as $18.75. Stamps come as low as 10 cents.

Defense bonds and stamps can be bought at local financial institutions and post office; stamps can be obtained also at retail stores.

America Observes 150th Anniversary Of Bill of Rights

(By Associated Press) Americans commemorated today the 150th anniversary of the adoption of the Bill of Rights—the constitutionally guaranteed basic freedoms of United States citizens.

President Roosevelt will speak on a bill of rights program to be broadcast over all networks between 10 and 11 p. m. eastern standard time.

Time was reserved for a 12:30 p. m. broadcast from the steps of the sub-treasury, building in New York, site of old Federal hall, the first Capitol of the United States, where the first congress enacted the bill of rights. Governor Lehman of New York and Governor Price of Virginia were the headline speakers.

It was Virginia which voted on Dec. 15, 1791, the final state ratification necessary to make the bill of rights the law of the land. And it was a Virginian, George Mason, who drafted the bill.

The library of congress placed on public display the journal of the house of representatives for August 21, 1789, the day when the members voted to submit the bill of rights to state ratification as the first ten amendments to the constitution.

AID TO ALLIES TOPS BILLION

Roosevelt Reports On Arms Shipments to 33 Nations Eligible

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—President Roosevelt reported today lend-lease aid to America's allies—33 countries listed as eligible—had totaled $1,202,000,000 through November 30.

Actual exports to December 1, however, were worth only $595,000,000, he said.

The third report submitted to congress on lend-lease activities said aid extended amounted to just $18,000,000 in March but the effort had been speeded to the extent that $283,000,000 worth of material was made available in November.

Congress has voted nearly $13,000,000,000 for lend-lease.

For Most Effective Use

Mr. Roosevelt said in a letter to congress that the weapons from the arsenal of the democracies must be used where they can be employed most effectively and "that means we must let Britain, Russia, China and other nations including those of this hemisphere, use the weapons from that arsenal so that they can put them to most effective use."

Reaffirming his promise lend-lease aid will go on, the chief executive asserted that "too much is

Philippines Veteran Sees "Terrible Time" For Japs

Edmund Kamasky Spent Three Years In Army There, Then Enrolled at Miami; Plans to Re-enlist

Japan will have a "terrible time" conquering the Philippines, says Edmund Kamasky, Miami university freshman from Salem, who spent two years as a sergeant in the army's administration office in Manila. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kamasky of R. D. 1.

"When I left there a year ago, it was possible for Japan to take the islands, but now there are 10 times as many American soldiers there," the 23-year-old youth declares.

Roads Present Obstacles

"The few mountain roads over which the Japs can pass from their reported landing places are worse than the Burma road, and there are no w'p'aces in the roads which the army is prepared to flood if necessary," Kamasky says.

Kamasky enlisted in the army for a three-year period in August, 1938, and was discharged last August, just in time to enter Miami as a freshman. He is majoring in business education and plans some day to teach in a business college or to become an accountant.

"The Japs will have trouble coming down from the north. First, they must land on flatboats since there are no good harbors. Then they must face the Ifugaos—a tribe

Fate Of Guam Is Uncertain; 2 Others Hold

Wake, Midway Still Resisting; Philippines' Situation Unchanged; U. S. Bombers, Dutch Subs, Make China Sea Hot For Invaders

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The war department said today enemy air operations continued over Luzon in the Philippines and ground operations were in process in three sections of the island.

A brief communique said there was nothing to report from other areas, omitting mention of Hawaii and the United States Pacific coast for the first time in several days.

Outlining the military situation as of 9:30 A. M. E. S. T., the communique said:

"1. Philippine theater: Enemy air operations over the island of Luzon continue. Operations on ground are continuing in the north and northwest sectors of Luzon and the vicinity of Legaspi in southern Luzon.

"2. There is nothing to report from other areas."

Allied Bombers And Subs Blast Jap Transport Ships

(By The Associated Press) MANILA, Dec. 15.—United States army bombers, resisting Japanese attempts to reinforce troops landed at Legaspi, on the southeastern tip of Luzon island 250 miles from Manila, heavily damaged two Japanese transports yesterday, U. S. army headquarters reported today.

Announcement of the new American successes followed bulletins declaring that during the first week of the war army bombers and Dutch submarines had chalked up a week's bag of 10 enemy transport or supply ships sunk and five more badly battered.

Old Glory still flew over the tiny outposts on Wake and Midway islands, where a handful of marines kept up the amazing resistance which has covered them with glory.

Guam's fate was not officially known, but the presumption was that the island, girdled by fortified enemy bases, had been captured. Japanese submarines were reported active in Hawaiian waters, but the navy announced "vigorous attacks are being made against them."

Japanese air raiders, meanwhile, returned to the attack on Luzon, sweeping over the Manila area about noon (11 p. m. E. S. T. Sunday) and dropping bombs which a brief communique said fell in the vicinity of Nichols field.

The communique, issued at 4 p. m. (3 a. m. EST) said that enemy activities throughout the day were confined entirely to the air.

Four Japanese planes were shot down during yesterday's action off Legaspi, a communique declared.

Japs Hit Hard

The picture evoked by these succeeding announcements, coupled with reports of successes achieved by Netherlands submarines off Malaya, was one of heavy Japanese losses.

The Dutch announced yesterday from Batavia that their submarines, previously reported to have sunk four Japanese transports in the Gulf of Siam, also had sunk a Japanese tanker and a freighter in the same area.

The situation in general in the Philippines, which Lieut. General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said Sunday was "well in hand both on the ground and in the air," was described officially this morning as unchanged.

Unofficial reports said that Japanese forces established around Vigan, on the Luzon west coast 200 miles north of Manila, had sent

REMEMBER GUAM TOO

When Guam is mentioned, the public ear tingles. Here is a strangely familiar name in war news from the Pacific. It used to seem that congress wasted a lot of time arguing about Guam and whether or not the navy should build fortifications there. The island became a sort of symbolic difference of opinion between those who were accused at the time of seeing things under the bed and those who now must admit they didn't look closely enough.

For a while the latter group had their way. The naval expansion bill of 1933 carried an item of $5,000,000 for improving the harbor at Guam. This was in line with a recommendation by a special board which President Roosevelt had appointed in 1933 that Guam be developed as a major air and submarine base. The board placed the initial cost at $155,000,000.

The Guam appropriation was rejected in the 1939 budget. An appropriation of $1,000,000 for the same purpose was rejected in the 1940 budget. Chief reason for rejection was fear of making Japan angry; Guam was necessary to the defense of the Philippine islands, but Japan had taken the position that it would be useful only for an attack on Japanese territory.

It goes without saying that whatever improvements the navy finally started on Guam's 225 square miles under the secret 1941 naval appropriation were not very far along when Japan made its sucker punch bid for Pacific supremacy last Sunday. The workmen were still on the island when the blow fell. While Americans are remembering Pearl Harbor, where fortifications had been finished, they also should remember Guam, where fortifications were just getting under way—too late.

SECRETARY KNOX IN HONOLULU

One of the worst things that could have happened has been averted by a narrow squeak for the time being. As long as Navy Secretary Knox is in Honolulu seeing for himself what happened and finding out for himself why it happened, the congressmen who had chosen him to play goat will have to mark time. Their public blood-quaffing has been postponed.

There would have been scant satisfaction in pushing around Mr. Knox, who after all is only the civilian head of a department of naval experts, but pushing around is the first thing that comes to the mind of a certain type of legislator. This is nothing new; congressmen always have felt—and perhaps properly—a heavy obligation for the proper conduct of war. Their chronic trouble has been that they usually went looking for a scapegoat, instead of for ways to assist the war effort. A joint congressional committee was conspicuously active in the Civil war, for instance, and if the war could have been won with court-martials and investigations, the thing wouldn't have lasted a year.

With Secretary Knox's return from Honolulu, he will have the advantage of knowing what he's talking about, which should be a great help. He will have the advantage, also, which he couldn't have foreseen when he left, of reminding his critics that the British also sustained heavy naval losses in the Pacific—an indication that something besides navy department neglect was to blame for the catastrophe at Pearl Harbor.

SOMETHING IS MISSING

An important event—more important than Japan's sudden attack on Pearl Harbor—has occurred to change the aspect of World War II. German retreat in Russia may prove to be a turning point.

The German army, which had retreated from Rostov, is retreating from Moscow. The Rostov retreat could have been strategic, or the Moscow retreat could have been strategic. Together, they can be only an admission of weakness.

This is the German army that must obliterate Russian military power and dominate the continents of Europe and Africa to pull Italy's and Japan's chestnuts out of the fire. This is the army that must finish what it has started, or Propaganda Minister Goebbels' prediction of ruin for the German people undoubtedly will come true. This is the army that Adolf Hitler is depending on to settle the fate of Europe for 1,000 years—in Germany's favor. What will the Japanese, the Italians, the Germans and the millions of conquered human beings enslaved by that army think when they find out it is retreating?

Germany has been helped enormously by the myth of invulnerability. It was helped at the outset of World War I by the same thing. World War I was lost at the instant the German people and their allies realized the army wasn't as good as it needed to be to do everything it needed to do to win world domination for Germany. World War II may be lost the same way.

TRANSITION

The single fact of greatest importance about what now should be called national offense, instead of defense, is the time that has been allowed. Transition from a peace to a war economy began in the fall of 1939, when war broke out in Poland. It was tentative until the following June, when the defeat of France disclosed that the Axis ultimately would have to be checked by an Anglo-American alliance. It did not really begin to emerge from the blueprint and oratory stage until late last summer. It cannot be called complete or even well advanced until sometime next year.

The question raised by last week's momentous events is how much the transition can be speeded up. This means not only more production, but better synchronization of production to get results. It does no good to produce armor plate, for instance, unless it can be put to use; steel mills could be doing more than they are doing, in other words, if fabricators could work faster. For two years, most Americans have tinkered armament production as though they had on the time in their world. They were told occasionally that it was later than they thought, but they grew accustomed to that ominous warning, too. They know now how late it was; they are grateful for the time they were allowed to prepare, but they know now that the deadline was passed last Sunday.

These are quite contradictory with the promise of some very definite progress, with a general trend upward on business, sustained by the good will of large corporations, secret bodies, employers and superiors which may eventually override the opposition and stubborn obstacles manipulated by elders, non-progressives as well as by strangers or others holding antagonistic or erratic ideas. This may react upon the health.

Those whose birthday it is may be called upon to iron out some definite antagonism or stubborn opposition, mainly from elders, old institutions or from strangers who may be erratic or unconventional in their ideas. However, those in authority, superiors and influential personages may prove cooperative and give acceleration to very promising business and professional programs. REDHEADS HAVE AVERAGE RESISTANCE

Tuberculosis Ratings Compared by Physicans

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Tuberculosis is everywhere and everyone probably picks up a few germs from time to time, especially in childhood. Then why do we not all get tuberculosis?

Osler very aptly compared the immunity to tuberculosis to the parable of the sower. The sower went forth to sow. Some of his seed fell upon stony ground and took no root. Some of it was devoured by the fowls of the air (this means that the phagocytes and other immune cells of the body ate up the germs). Some of the seed sprang up but weeds and tares choked the plants (this means the healing power of the scar tissue of the body). And some of them fell on good soil, sprang up and multiplied one-thousand fold. This, in case of tuberculosis, means the people who have no resistance and whose body chemistry suits the germs of tuberculosis.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Low Resistance

Now who are these people who have no body resistance to tuberculosis? Low resistance has been noted in particular races—Negroes, the American Indian, the Irish immigrant to the United States of 40 years ago were all in this class.

Other distinctions have been made on the basis of body coloring and fair people and blonds are supposed to have more resistance than brunettes. Two thousand years ago Hippocrates said that "the whitish, the reddish and the blue-eyed were peculiarly subject to pythical complaints."

The Germans who, of course, did not like the idea that anybody who was blond and Nordic was an easy prey to disease, turned the tables and used to say that dark-haired people were subject to tuberculosis.

So far as red hair and tuberculosis are concerned, it has been subjected to a critical analysis at the Olive View Sanatorium in California. Here the color of hair and eyes are recorded by the admitting clerk and they now have a record of over 10,000 patients admitted during the past two decades.

This allows of clear distinction. While it might be possible to have a difference of opinion as to shades of brown hair, let us say, it is pretty generally agreed that a red-haired person is red-haired.

Among ten thousand patients with tuberculosis, there were only one hundred forty-four recorded as having red hair. This does not show an unusual susceptibility. Of course it is a little unfair to compare these with brown-haired people, because brown hair would naturally be in the majority any way. But it is fair to compare the death rate among red-haired and brown-haired people because this is based on percentage figures. It was found that the death rate among red-haired people with tuberculosis was just the same as that of the entire group of patients. Since the death rate would indicate an increased susceptibility to the inroads of the disease, this may be taken to mean that red-haired people have about the same resistance to tuberculosis as anyone else.

Your complexion has no practical importance on the outcome or the course of tuberculosis once you get it.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

K. C. B.: "Please give a table of blood pressure, systolic and diastolic, and their relationship and the average pulse rate."

Answer: Systolic blood pressure means the amount of pressure in the arteries at the time of the heart's contraction. Diastolic blood pressure means the amount of pressure in the blood vessels at the time of the relaxation of the heart. Blood pressure is measured in millimeters of mercury and the average for a male or female is systolic—120 millimeters and diastolic—80 millimeters. This is however subject to a great deal of variation. Diastolic should be 40 points below the systolic pressure.

The average pulse rate for an adult is 72 beats to the minute with a normal range between 60 and 90. Any pulse over 90 is considered suspicious.

Emerald Embassy by FRANCIS GERARD

SYNOPSIS
While strolling along the as yet unspoiled countryside, Ambrose Pennyfeather, a respected citizen of West and England, is shot to death by a man who spoke with a French accent.

CHAPTER TWO
Lord Lanchester eased himself back onto his pillows remembering as he did so his own instructions to move his right leg as far as possible. His favorite mare had rolled over his leg during a hunt meet and now he had phlebitis.

He tugged at his close-clipped mustache and passed a hand over the dark hair heavily flecked with grey. He stared morosely across the room from his big four-poster bed where his younger brother sat in a high-backed chair before a chester of small loaves.

From where he lay, Lanchester could see the highlights from the fire on the firm sweep of his brother's jaw. He got a good head on him. Yes, no beauty, but then the young Blades-Steeles had never been pretty to look at.

Suddenly Yves spoke, his eyes dimmed and staring down into the fire, the lines about his mouth severe and bitter. "It's got me down, George," he said harshly. "Pennyfeather was such an awful bloke! Who," he asked, "who in all this world would want to knock old Pennyfeather over?"

"I knew him, too, you know," Yves said the earl quietly. "Probably better than you did. It's such a shock that I've hardly got around being sorry yet. It's so difficult to see."

Yves Blades-Steele grunted and the brothers relapsed once more into silence, each busy with his own thoughts. It was the younger man who, once again, broke the long silence.

"And nothing was taken?" he asked.
"No, nothing was taken. He had quite a lot of money on him at the time, too. Apparently his man, Hogbin, had been in to Ipswich this morning to cash a cheque or him."

"And can Hogbin confirm that all the money he brought back was in the old boy's pocket?"
"Every single note."

Yves Blades-Steele shook his head and thrust his hands into the pockets of his dinner-jacket. "I saw up," he said. "Nobody benefits except Hogbin. I'd say that Ambrose Pennyfeather was about the only living example of that popular but fictitious character: the man without any enemies."

"That seems a very grand sort of way of putting it," said George Lanchester. "But I think it's true all right." He broke off, hesitated a moment and then went on, "Yves, I don't mean I'm harping on the same thing the whole time but well, you will be careful tomorrow, won't you?"

A little smile creased the corners of his brother's mouth but his expression was quite sober when he nodded and said, "That's all right, George. I shan't play the fool. Not with the necklace. I'll be careful in any case. John's coming with me, as you know."

"It's not that I doubt you, old man," said Lanchester locking his fingers behind his head. "But I've always gone myself before and times the responsibility."

"You will be careful tomorrow, won't you, Yves?" asked Lord Lanchester.

Silence fell once more upon the room, both men thinking of Yves' mission on the morrow and its connection with their family history.

If you turn up "Lanchester" in Burke's you will find that the Blades-Steeles is one of the few families who really can trace their ancestry not only to the Conquest but to the one of 1066... but actually two generations beyond.

The current George Blades-Steele is the thirteenth Earl of Lanchester, eighteenth Viscount Weyland, and the holder of the three baronies. Following a long list of orders and decorations (which look like the whole of the alphabet starting with the magic symbols K. G. you will read: "Honour of the Emerald.")

The latter distinction is, in fact, unique. Behind those four words lies a romantic story which dates back over a hundred years to the time when Sir William sat upon the throne of England.

In the year 1835 the then Earl of Lanchester, captain of His Majesty's frigate Intrepid, was "cruising in leisurely fashion down the western coast of the Malay Peninsula. Arrived off the island of Sulungu, which lay some two hundred miles north of Penang, he dropped his hook and sent off a shore-party to obtain fresh water.

The party was allowed to land unmolested but soon they were attacked by natives and slaughtered to a man.

Lord Lanchester, having observed events through a spy-glass, decimated the murders with a broadside of grape-shot.

That night the watch surprised a lemon-colored individual scrambling up the ship's side. After allowing him to get across the bulwarks, he was knocked over the head with a wooden mallet.

When the Sulungese had recovered sufficiently, he was brought before Lord Lanchester and declared himself to be no less a person than Prince Thalan of Sulungu, a cousin of the reigning Dwan of Sultana.

The present Dwan was a bloody tyrant, beneath whose rule the people groaned and that he proposed leading a revolt against the despot. He had come to seek aid and would richly reward such assistance.

Captain Lord Lanchester questioned him closely and decided to help. At dawn the palace stockade was carried by assault, men from merry England fighting shoulder to shoulder with half-naked savages who paused every now and then to decapitate the wounded.

Lord Lanchester conveyed the dethroned Dwan together with his family aboard the Intrepid, and went back to the new sultan to remind him of his promised reward.

The young Dwan cheerfully agreed to take this up in the near future. Captain Lord Lanchester, having deposited the deposed sovereign to the mainland, continued his cruise which terminated at Portsmouth some nineteen months later.

He reported to his superiors in Whitehall and was granted an audience with young Queen Victoria who had just succeeded to the throne. Her Majesty thanked him charmingly, and honoured him with a mission which was to take him across the earth once more to Sulungu. He brought with him a square emerald which Her Majesty had purchased for five thousand pounds. It was to be a gift from her to the Dwan of Sulungu.

The young sultan was much gratified at Her Majesty's munificence and promised fealty, regretting at the same time that so beautiful an emerald should not have a fellow so that one might be worn in either ear.

When Victoria was informed of this she tapped her thumb vigorously with her fan and the Duke of Wellington, recognizing the symptoms, edged further into the background. It was Albert who pointed out that five thousand pounds was a small price to pay for the goodwill of an island people who might well become of considerable use to the growing British Empire. The Dwan got his second emerald and from then on it became the custom to send the ruling prince of Sulungu a similar emerald every year.

The Dwan conferred upon Lord Lanchester the title of "Honour of the Emerald," and the Blades-Steele family became a link between the Imperial House of England and the ruling monarch of that far-off island.

Hong Kong, British Fortress, in War News

Victoria in foreground, Kowloon peninsula background

Britain's mighty fortress of Hong Kong, located on an island in the China sea off the southern Chinese coast, is the target of Japanese attack by air and sea. While Nanking dispatches quoted a Japanese army spokesman as saying Hong Kong was encircled, British sources disclosed that the British had halted the invasion. The crown colony of Hong Kong has an area of some 30 square miles. The larger part of the colony lies on the mainland, although the main city of some 2,000,000 is on the island just off the shore. In this picture the town of Victoria is in foreground. In background is Kowloon peninsula. At right, background, is the terminal of the Pan-American Clipper planes.

Miss Blythe, Nelson Carroll, Wed At Presbyterian Church

Miss Catherine O. Blythe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Ober of Ohio ave., became the bride of Nelson W. Carroll, son of Mrs. Lillian Carroll of Berea, in a lovely candlelight ceremony at 8 p. m. Saturday in the Presbyterian church.

Rev. R. D. Walter, pastor of the church, heard the exchange of vows in a setting of palms and ferns and white chrysanthemums, lighted by white tapers in seven-branched candelabra at either side of the altar and chancel.

The wedding music, played by Miss Anna Cook, organist, included "Because" (H. Harlow), "At Dawning" (C. Cadman), "The Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" (Wagner), "The Wedding March" (Mendelssohn), and vocal solos, "O Promise Me" (de Koven), and "I Love You Truly" (Bend). Miss Frances Mae Vincent.

Attendants were Mrs. David Kirby, sister of the bride, as matron of honor and Miss Jean Olenhausen as maid of honor; Charles Carroll of Cleveland as his brother's best man. Ushers were Carroll Schultz of Cleveland and Donald Blythe, a brother of the bride.

Given by Brother

Given in marriage by her brother, the bride wore a beautiful gown of candlelight white satin, fashioned with a round neckline above a yoke of Alenca lace, long fitted sleeves ending in points over the hands and full skirt. The circular tiered veil of imported illusion was arranged in a tulle of imported orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of white mums, tied with white net ribbon.

Mrs. Kirby in pink silk jersey, and Miss Olenhausen, in blue, wore gowns of similar design, with long sleeves and wide girdle at the waist, outlined by two narrow gold bands. Mrs. Kirby wore a tiara of white pompons and carried a bouquet of the same flowers. Miss Olenhausen wore yellow pompons in her hair-dress and carried yellow pompons in her bouquet.

Mrs. Ober, mother of the bride in a brown dress with gold nailhead trim and brown accessories, and Mrs. Carroll, wearing navy blue with lighter blue accessories, had corsages of gardenias.

Dinner Follows Ceremony

Following the ceremony a dinner was held at the church and a reception in the evening at the bride's home. The tables for the dinner were attractive, the bride appointed entirely in white, with a tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom as centerpiece. Two large bouquets of white pompons were at either end of the bride table. For traveling the bride wore a pastel pink wool suit with brown accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The couple left for several days wedding trip and will return to their new home in Parma Heights, near Cleveland.

The bride, a graduate of Salem High school in 1932, attended the Villa Maria college in Erie, Pa., and graduated from Salem City Hospital Nurses Training school in 1937. A nurse for a year at the Cleveland City hospital, she has been at the Lakewood hospital for the last two years.

The groom, a graduate of Lakewood High school, attended Fern college in Cleveland, where he is employed.

Guests were present from Cleveland, Lakewood, Berea, Erie, Pa., Hanoverton and Lisbon.

Junior Auxiliary Has Christmas Program

A Christmas party followed the regular meeting of the Junior Auxiliary Legion auxiliary Saturday afternoon at the Legion home. The meeting marked the close of a two-weeks drive in the "Young America Wants to Help" movement, a junior branch of British war relief work. The drive netted the junior group sufficient funds to send to national headquarters for an emergency rescue kit and various articles of woolen clothing which will be sent abroad. Committees and members in charge of the campaign expressed their appreciation for the public response to their work to alleviate the hardships and suffering of children in Britain.

The auxiliary voted to contribute to the maintenance of the Fairmount children's home. A defense program will be taken up at the next meeting Jan. 10.

The Christmas party held in the rooms, which were decorated appropriately for the Christmas season, included a gift exchange and entertainment. The program, arranged by Kay Holbach and Shirley Baldinger, was: Piano solos, Christmas music, Norma Cunningham, reading, "Twas the Night Before Christmas," Glenna Lee Harris; a two-act play, Kay and Ann Holbach and Patricia Coe; group singing of Christmas carols. Games and a lunch were enjoyed later. The lunch was served by Bernice and Norma Cunningham, refreshment committee, at tables attractively arranged with Christmas favors and appointments. A gift exchange concluded the party.

Loyal Women's Class Marks "Birthday"

Services and programs throughout the day at the Christian church marked the 30th anniversary of the Loyal Women's class of the church Sunday.

Sunday school was attended by 50 class members who heard Mrs. Ross Clay, teacher, give the Biblical Christmas story. Special decorations were arranged by the members for the church at the morning service. A tea was held in the evening for 100 members and their friends.

The program was as follows: Piano solo, Miss Margaret Kirkbride; vocal solo, Miss Martha Jane Stirling; class history, given by Mrs. Jesse Beck; music by a trio, Friscilla Beery, piano; Jay Hanna, violin; and Paul Evans, viola; reading, Mrs. J. P. Hayden; talk, Miss Adda Bonnell, regular teacher of the group.

The class attended the evening service, at which Rev. H. L. Miller of Sandusky, former local Christian church pastor, was the principal speaker. He was introduced by Mrs. S. R. Shive, class president. The service featured special music by the choir.

The regular class meeting and Christmas party will be held at the church Tuesday night.

COMMITTEE O.K.'S NAVAL EXPANSION

000-ton expansion proposed in a bill he introduced but that the navy had decided upon the smaller amount after a reexamination of its needs.

Vinson said all the ships to be built under the authorization would be laid down in the calendar year 1942.

The measure to increase the size of the navy, along with proposals to extend the draft age limits and to give the President extraordinary control over government functions, were ready for swift congressional action.

These three measures topped the week's list of "must" legislation as both houses prepared to give final approval today to a $10,000,000,000 appropriations measure carrying funds for completing the equipment of an army of 2,000,000 men and obtaining critical supplies for an additional 1,200,000 men.

The selective service legislation, scheduled for house consideration Tuesday and senate action immediately thereafter, was designed to provide a coordinated increase in military manpower as quick as new equipment becomes available. It would require registration of all men from 19 through 44 years old for military service, with 18 year olds and those from 45 through 64 listed for defense duties.

As the house military affairs committee prepared to meet today to consider the legislation, some members expressed the opinion it was not necessary at this time to reach below 21 years for selectees.

Selective service officials said they planned to begin drawing at once upon the 1,000,000-man reservoir already available in the age brackets up through 35 years old under the Selective Service Act as it now stands. Up to 50,000 of these were expected to go to the navy and up to 10,000 to the marine corps.

cut patrols during the week end in an attempt to widen their foothold. There was no mention, however, of further fighting at Lingayen, 100 miles northwest of Manila, where General MacArthur said yesterday that a Philippine army division had smashed a Japanese landing force, nor at Aparri in northernmost Luzon, where the Japanese also have landed troops.

American warplanes, however, were said to have made several attacks on the Aparri area to thwart Japanese attempts to establish an air base there.

There was no indication that the Japanese actually had been able to land more troops at Legaspi. Up to yesterday, army headquarters said, only a limited number of men had been put ashore there and these were reported under sharp attack from the air.

Japanese aerial activity over Luzon this morning was said to have been limited to a few sporadic raids. At least 40 Japanese planes were reportedly shot down over the Philippines last week, during which the islands were the target of 14 major attacks.

Army quarters firmly reiterated that thus far the Japanese had not landed any parachute troops in the Philippines. Unofficial reports to the contrary have been found to be false, these quarters said.

The Daughters of the American Revolution called special meetings of all chapters to commemorate the day.

President Roosevelt's proclamation requesting the observance remarked that "those who have long enjoyed such privileges as we enjoy forget in time that men have died to win them." It added:

"We, however, who have seen these privileges lost in other continents and other countries can now appreciate their meaning to those people who enjoyed them once and now no longer can. We understand in some measure what their loss can mean. And by that realization we have come to a clearer conception of their worth to us and to a stronger and more unalterable determination that here in our land they shall not be lost or weakened or curtailed."

MOSCOW CITIZENS HAIL NAZI FLIGHT

Exchange Battledress For Sunday Best; Felt Fear Only Once

(By Associated Press) MOSCOW, Dec. 14.—(Delayed).—This glistening white capital exchanged battledress for its Sunday best today as its war-proven inhabitants celebrated the retreat of Adolf Hitler's legions from their near-siege positions.

With a group of American and British correspondents flown in from Jukyshev yesterday I viewed the city's scars and heard from men and women who stayed grimly by their posts through two bitter months of German air and land onslaughts the epic story of their struggle for existence.

Residents who underwent as many as seven air raids in a single day, and on several days four, told of hearing the heavy thud of artillery during one bad night when the Germans came closest. Nightly they saw on the horizon the flashes from the big guns reaching for their city.

No Food Shortage

There never was any serious food shortage, residents said.

Only once were real fears felt for the city's resistance, residents said. That came during the dark days of October 16 and 17, when a mass exodus accompanied the peak of the first of two German offensives.

"We saw German prisoners here in Moscow," one resident said. "Only one that I saw had a fur cap. Twenty or 30 others wore very thin clothes, with shawls wrapped around their heads. They shivered in the cold."

The byzantine turrets of the Kremlin and the modern structures of Gorky street are standing unscathed. Subways, street cars and buses are still operating. Lights, water, gas and other public services are still functioning. Merchants are busy.

Bad weather has prevented the Germans from making many air raids recently but they attempted one last night. The government and communist party newspapers, Izvestia and Pravda, have warned the public not to consider the danger entirely passed.

Theatre Attractions

Alfred Hitchcock rings the bell again with his latest hit "Suspicion," starring Joan Fontaine and Cary Grant, which shows at the State tonight and Tuesday.

The director of "The Lady Vanishes," "The 39 Steps," "Foreign Correspondent" and "Rebecca," has kept the suspense, the dramatic mood of the story and the work of the players at a pace which matches anything he or they have previously done.

The decidedly different "mystery" story is based on Frances Iles' novel, "Before the Fact." The quiet, imaginative daughter of a wealthy retired English general falls in love and elopes with a charming, popular but extremely dishonest scapegrace. The death of his best friend seems to involve her husband and before long, she believes he is the murderer and that he is planning to make her his second victim.

In the supporting cast which does outstanding work also are Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Nigel Bruce, Dame May Whitty and Heather Angel.

Showing Tuesday and Wednesday at the grand will be a double feature program: "City of Missing Girls," melodrama exposing the workings of the bogus talent scout racket, with H. B. Warner, John Archer, Astrid Allwyn and Sarah Padden; and "Leopard Men of Africa," filmed by an African expedition which went into the interior of the continent to record the story of a primitive native tribe.

WILLIAM C. MORRON IS DEAD IN LISBON

LISBON, Dec. 15.—William C. Morron, 84, lifelong resident and storekeeper here, died at his home, 315 E. Lincoln way, at 11:30 p. m. Saturday following several years illness.

A 32nd degree Mason, he was the last surviving charter member of the Salem Commandery of Knights Templars, a member of Al Kora Shrine of Cleveland, the Pennsylvania Consistory of Pittsburgh, and of the New Lisbon lodge No. 65, F. and A. M.

He was born in Lisbon, Nov. 2, 1857, a son of John A. and Amanda Morron. As a young man he became associated in the grocery business with his father, the same business from which he retired a few years ago. He was united in marriage with Irene Greenamyer, who died in 1925. He was a member of the Methodist church.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. E. G. Heilbroner, at home, and two brothers, Roy Morron of Columbus, and George Morron of Cannonsburg, Pa.

Funeral service will be held at the Ellis funeral home at 2 p. m. Tuesday in charge of Rev. Theodore Cord, pastor of the Christian church. Burial will be in the Lisbon cemetery, with rites by the Masonic lodge.

Friends may meet with the family this evening from 7 until 9 o'clock at the Ellis funeral home.

PARIS WILL BALK WINTER TIME WEAR

Cleaning That Is Odorless Answer to Cold Weather Problems

First full days of wintery weather bring many new problems and worries to the person who wishes to be immaculately dressed.

At no other time of the year is the air more charged with soot and coal dust than at this season. The moist air is literally loaded with grime and elements which take the neatness out of clothing.

Clothing—men's women's and children's—becomes soiled in the grime, rain and snow after a few trips from home. Business or pleasure trips make little difference in the toll of clothing neatness. Much of the dirt and moisture works its way into a fabric.

Care Always Given

Fortunately, there is in Salem a cleaning service which provides a satisfactory solution to the clothing problem at all seasons of the year. This service is that of Paris Cleaners on Benton road. A new process of odorless cleaning provides a thorough and economical job without any harm to cloth of a garment.

Paris will send to your home for clothing, will dry clean and press it and return it to suit the customer's convenience. A department to repair and adjust garments is maintained.

Great care is given by the Paris shop in cleaning and pressing of women's garments. Painstaking hand work is provided for evening gowns, fur and fur-trimmed garments receive special care and coats and overcoats of all kinds are revitalized.

Garment Restored

Instead of injury to fabrics, the Paris process cleans so gently that it softens and restores color and newness to a garment. Yet the cleaning is so thorough that life is added to many pieces of clothing. Skill, the best cleaning processes and solvents and extreme care result in it keeping its customers for many years.

Every kind of dry cleaning is given equally careful and thoughtful attention. Drapes, household fabrics are among the articles which can be restored to freshness and attractiveness. Extra life can be added to these household furnishings.

Build Huge Force At Ravenna Arsenal

The Ravenna arsenal, into which the government has poured more than $50,000,000 in a year, will go into full production as fast as personnel can be trained and put to work to turn out shells for the fighting forces.

This was revealed in a joint announcement from officials of the Atlas Powder company, which is operating the huge shell loading plant, and the Ohio State Employment service Saturday night.

The company and state agency are cooperating in an employment campaign to meet the vastly increased demands for help at the arsenal. Atlas officials and H. G. Johnson, field supervisor for northeastern Ohio for the Employment Service, announced.

The State Employment centers in this area, Johnson said, will attempt to furnish 300 applicants a day from Akron, Youngstown, Warren and Ravenna, with each office furnishing 50. Other State Employment offices in this vicinity will be expected to furnish regular quotas of applicants on a weekly basis.

No specialized experience is required for many types of work which are available, and employees will be trained on the job. The arsenal will also need many guards and laborers, in addition to a number of skilled workers, ranging from machinists to auto repairmen. Only applications from men are desired at this time. Applications from women will be accepted within a few weeks.

Those who are interested in securing employment with the Atlas Powder company should contact their nearest State Employment office at their earliest convenience. At that time, they will be registered and given a preliminary interview and those who qualify will be assisted in filling out the Atlas application form. They will then be turned over to the Atlas Powder company interviewer who is stationed in the office for completion of the preliminary interview. Every applicant must be able to present proof of citizenship (usually a birth certificate), pass a satisfactory physical examination, and be able to stand a thorough investigation by Atlas representatives.

WINTER--PROOFED CARS LAST LONGER

Failure To Offset Cold Weather Hazards May Be Costly

Added improvements and comforts of modern motor cars should not cause one to neglect providing of full winter protection for an auto, according to Pete Wiggers of Wiggers Sales and Service, 166 S. Ellsworth ave.

Ownership of a car having the latest engineering developments should prompt the driver to more carefully winterize before it is too late. Failure to protect the car against cold weather may result in serious damage, costly repair bills and unnecessary safety risks while on the highway.

The Wiggers Service is equipped to completely winterproof a car or truck. Attention will be given the radiator by changing water, flushing and providing enough antifreeze fluid to prevent any trouble, regardless of low temperatures.

Winter Lubricants

Serious damage to a motor or moving parts can be averted by use of the Wiggers lubrication department. Complete draining of old, worn oil and removal of dirty grease are provided before proper lubricant for winter use are substituted.

Careful attention is given to properly lubricating transmission and differential of all models serviced. Trained attendants in the lubrication department check carefully to give the most efficient service possible.

Safer and more comfortable winter driving also is possible through use of auto accessories sold by the Wiggers Sales and Service. These include tires, batteries and heaters, defrosters, fog lamps and other accessories in demand at this time of year.

SKILL REQUIRED IN AUTO REBUILDING

Matt Klein Refinishes, No Matter How Difficult The Assignment

When refinishing or rebuilding of an automobile body has to be done, Matt Klein's body service performs an unusual service for motorists of the Salem district.

Equipment and training of skilled employees enables Matt Klein's service to handle any type of straightening or mending bodies or frames, glass work, auto upholstery, service repairing of door locks and handles, and scores of other troubles about an automobile body.

Work By Estimate

Any work with metal, wood or upholstery material about the automobile body can be handled, regardless of condition when brought to the shop. After a car apparently hopelessly damaged in an accident can be placed in excellent condition at a surprisingly low cost.

Virtually all work at Matt Klein's service is handled by estimate on rebuilding and refinishing costs. Matt Klein, shop proprietor, allows every car owner to know exactly how much it will cost to put an automobile back in its original or better than original condition.

Welding equipment to handle any job around an automobile body is on hand at the shop. Dents and holes in auto bodies may be welded and then leveled over before repainting is started. The shop can do any type of paint job and is able to match the factory color of any make or model of car. Frequently, these paints have to be especially prepared by workmen in the shop.

POINT TO VALUE OF LANDSCAPING

Original Expense Becomes Good Investment, Records Show

For year-in-and-year-out pleasure, there is nothing any family would enjoy more than well planned landscaping around their home. As an idea for Christmas it deserved much thought, for even the original expense becomes a good investment as the trees and shrubs grow.

Cope Bros. and Fultz Inc., nurserymen located on the east side of South Ellsworth ave., about a half-mile out from the railroad, can help you plan and make the planting of most anything in the nursery line, the most of which would be sure to be trees, shrubs, bushes and vines grown at their nursery.

Locally grown nursery stock is much more apt to do well when transplanted than the same varieties grown under different conditions and, too, when buying from Cope Bros. and Fultz Inc., give will be advised as to the proper care from year to year. They will even do the pruning, spraying and fertilizing if so directed.

The rush of fall work is over at the nursery now but it is not too late to make plantings. Now is an excellent time to have them help you with your selection and you can at least enjoy the evergreens this winter and be looking forward to the blooms of other nursery stock this coming spring.

Persons who want anything, know The News is the Want Medium in this vicinity. So read it.

Quakers Notch Second Win Of Season; Beat Columbiana, 43-23

SCORING POWER IS SHOWN IN LOCALS' LAST HALF ATTACK

McGaffie, Guappone Set Torrid Pace; Volio Is Scoring Threat

Swishing the netting for 23 points in a blistering second half attack, the Salem High Quakers sent the Columbiana Clippers down to defeat, 43-23, on the local floor Saturday night.

With Ray "Goose" McGaffie and Salvador "Tut" Guappone setting a torrid pace, the Salemites jumped into a 12-6 lead as the first period ended. Early in the second the Clippers got their attack in working order and began to bombard the hoop with all sorts of shots. Bill Hollinger sparked the attack as he dropped in a pair of field goals from under the basket. The Quakers' pace left down slightly in this quarter and they were outscored 11-8. They still managed to hold a slight edge at the half-way mark, leading by 20-17.

Volio Takes A Shot

During the intermission, Coach Herbert Brown advised Johnny Volio to begin shooting the ball instead of looking around for someone to feed it to. When the third quarter started, Volio took his advice.

As a result, he and McGaffie shared high point honors for the period as both flipped in two baskets, the first of the season for Volio. The Quaker offense really began to roll in that third quarter as they rang up 11 points while holding their opponents to one basket. As the period ended, the local cagers were the possessors of a 31-19 lead.

In the final quarter, the visitors were ready for the showers and the Quakers proceeded to run wild, scoring at will. The Clippers lost Patchen, their rangy center, early in this period on fouls, and their defense was weakened by the loss. This misfortune, plus the return of Guappone to the game, spelled certain defeat for the Columbiana quintet. The locals rang up 12 tallies in the quarter while limiting the opposition to a bucket and pair of penalty shots. Guappone hit a hot streak, scoring six points to pace the Salemites in the final period.

McGaffie and Guappone paced the Quakers to victory with 14 and 12 points, respectively, while Volio scored eight to keep the locals in the running. The Salem lads did a fine defensive job in holding Firestone, the visitors' flashy high point man, scoreless from the field. But they couldn't hold him down at the foul line and he scored a perfect average by making five out of five. Priddy, Salem's pivot man, almost matched him in that respect, tossing in four out of six from the free-throw line.

McGaffie Gets Seven

McGaffie had a good night as he tossed in seven baskets, making them from all parts of the court. Guappone shone on left-handed shots from the foul circle. Volio tallied his points from the quarter mark, making three out of five shots from that area. The Salem defense looked weak during the first half but began to sparkle after the intermission. Sam Priddy caught onto Hollinger's style in the last half and held him scoreless. Bob "Scubby" Scullion turned in his usual fine game on the defense, holding the giant Patchen to a mere four points.

All in all, the locals played a fine game once they got over their first quarter jitters. Their offense sparkled in the final half and their defense didn't look too bad at any stage of the game.

Coach Brown said: "The boys played good ball but I thought the game would be nip-and-tuck right down to the finish. I'm glad they won, and I think we've found our fifth scoring threat in Johnny Volio. All he needed was a little self confidence and the belief that he could make points just like anybody else. He looked all right out there. 'Goose' and 'Tut' (McGaffie and Guappone) were plenty hot. I'm satisfied about the whole thing. The Quakers will meet Youngstown Chaney on the home floor Tuesday night and will try to attain their third win of the season."

Reserves Win Again

The Reserves remained unbeaten as they walloped a weak Columbiana reserve squad, 61-16. Ray "Butch" Wells tallied 17 points to pace the locals' red-hot attack while Dick "Knobby" Greene was not far behind with 14.

The Red and Black cagers turned in their usual good defense game as they held their opponents to six field goals.

In the preliminary game, Salem's Little Quakers, the freshman squad, turned in their first victory of the campaign by overwhelming the New Waterford Reserves by a 46-10 count. Walt Brian and Harry Lodge led the locals in the scoring column with 14 and 10 points, respectively. The team built up a 29-7 lead at half-time and coasted in to win easily.

Bears Tounce Green Bay, 33-14

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—The schedule makers of the National Football league disappointed followers of the New York Giants in not pitting their favorite team against the Champion Chicago Bears, but everything is all right now.

The league's representatives in the nation's two largest cities finished the season's play by winning their respective division titles, automatically placing them as finalists for the championship encounter. The title game will be played next Sunday in Chicago's Wrigley Field.

The Giants knew they were one of the finalists a couple of weeks ago but the Bears only yesterday captured the Western section honors by humbling the Green Bay Packers, 33 to 14, in a playoff.

The Giants were among the 43-325 fans at yesterday's third Bear-Packers clash.

MOTORS DEFEAT K. PULASKI FIVE

The Althouse Motors, playing Saturday night in New Castle, Pa., defeated the K. Pulaski five of that city by a 45-42 count.

The Motors jumped into an early lead, 15-12, at the end of the first quarter. The New Castle five battled to overcome that slight edge but fell farther behind as the Salemites began to roll in the second quarter. The Motors were held even in the third period as the Polish quintet battled them on even terms. The last quarter found them battling furiously in an effort to pull the game out of the fire but the Althouse team protected its lead.

Al Catlos and Mike Thomas, former Salem High stars, led the winners in the scoring department with 14 and 13 points, respectively. Ryzek tossed in 13 to pace the losers.

The Motor's next out-of-town game will be in Akron Thursday night when they will meet the strong M. O'Neill five. The Akronites rated one of the strongest semi-pro teams in this district, have appeared in Salem many times.

at stake in this greatest of all wars for us to neglect people who are or may be attacked by our common enemies.

The total lend lease aid of $1,202,000,000 included $723,000,000 of articles transferred, some of which have not yet been exported, or are to be used in this country. Going into the totals also are articles awaiting transfer or use in process of manufacture, serving and repair of naval vessels, ship rental and charter, and the cost of building production facilities in the United States.

Three-Fourths Allocated
Of the lend-lease appropriations, the first of $7,000,000,000 and the second of $5,985,000,000, the report disclosed that $9,186,000,000 or approximately three-fourths, had been allocated while $5,243,000,000 had actually been obligated.

In the past 90 days, the report said, "steps have been taken which have greatly accelerated the rendering of lend-lease aid."

The original $7,000,000,000 was completely allocated by November 13 and more than $2,000,000,000 of the second fund has been earmarked.

Not all of the thirty-three countries, including the entire British empire, made eligible for lend-lease assistance on grounds their defense is vital to that of the United States have yet received help, however.

REDS STEPPING UP DRIVE ON GERMANS

Goal Now Extermination Of All Germans On
Russian Soil

Victory the greatest of the war with Germany:

1. Moscow saved;
2. German efforts to encircle Leningrad smashed;
3. The Nazi drive for vital Caucasus oil supplies hurled back along the Sea of Azov, with German forces now surrounded at Taganrog.

In London, observers speculated on the possibly desperate situation of two German salients north and south of the capital, which might be subjected to devastating flank attacks in the areas around Tikhvin on the north and Kharkov on the south.

Specifically, the Red army now claims to have recaptured the railway station at Ulovaya, 40 miles southeast of Tula, which is 100 miles south of Moscow—Dubna, west of Tula, and Verkhov, northeast of Liny, after day-long battling.

Verkhov is in the Orel sector, about 200 miles south of Moscow, where the Soviet radio has claimed the Russians have taken 400 towns and villages.

A 25,000-ton German troop transport ship is reported to have been sunk by a Russian naval unit in the Black sea.
